

Reform and Revolution in Europe, 1917–19: Entangled and Transnational Histories

NB! Sessions are held in Pinni B Building, if not stated otherwise

Thursday, March 16 10.00 – 11.30
1	Economy & social order (Room: B4115) Chair: Jari Ojala Ahvenainen, Jorma: The orientation of the Finnish export markets at the end of the First World War and its social weight Hannikainen, Matti & Peltola, Jarmo: The global crisis and the industrial labour market in Finland, 1913–1918 Poropudas, Olli: The role of economic development in Finland's economic ja political conflicts in the beginning of the twentieth century	Nationalism, nation-building and national self-determination I (Room: B4116) Chair: Juhana Aunesluoma Korhonen, Juho: National self-determination as continuation of imperial politics: Grand Duchy of Finland and German East Africa in field theoretical comparison Suveica, Svetlana: Between political ambitions and people's desire: a post-WWI transnational scenario for Bessarabia (1919) Vares, Vesa: Controlling the national myth by cinema	Revolutionary government (Room: B4117) Chair: Pertti Ahonen Semyonov, Alexander: Revolution or collapse of empire: is it possible to combine two perspectives in the study of 1917? Hörcher, Eszter Éva: The Aster Revolution in Hungary and its political-social circumstances and consequences	Transnational ideologies (Room: A05, Main Building) Chair: Taina Syrjämaa Karimäki, Jenni: "Not because of the war, but despite of it" – independence, Civil War and the constitutional struggle from a Finnish Liberal perspective Reenkola, Kaarina: Heikki Renvall's transnational ideas to strengthen Finnish economy in 1917	Cultural and political understandings of popular commerce, illegal food distribution and food riots in Finland 1914–1917 (Room A06, Main Building) Chair: Laura Kolbe Kaihovirta, Matias: Ethnicity and civilisation in the images of rebellion by Karl Harald Wiik and Carl Lindhagen Wassholm, Johanna: On the margins of retailing: attitudes towards ethnic/religious trading minorities in Finland during WWI Östman, Ann-Catrin: Butter on the market place – food provision, social order and conflicts in Ostrobothnian towns in 1916–1917 Nyzell, Stefan: commentator
11.30 – 13.00
2	The economic consequences of World War I in Finland (roundtable) (Room: B4115) Chair: Jari Ojala Haapala, Pertti Heikkinen, Sakari Nummela, Ilkka	Nationalism, nation-building and national self-determination II (Room: B4116) Chair: Marjaana Niemi Carteny, Andrea: Rising of nations, claiming for states: a comparative approach to the new nation-state building process in Europe Kokko, Heikki: From individual experience to official nationalism – imagined community in Finland in the 1850s and 1910s	New states and social issues (Room: B4117) Chair: Petri Karonen Harjula, Minna: Unfit for voting: political and social citizenship in Finnish local elections after independence Salvador, Alessandro: Mutual help, soldiers' solidarity and nationalist socialism: right-wing paramilitary organizations and the workers in Germany and Austria	German intervention to Finland (March-December 1918) and the rise and fall of "German Eastern Empire" (roundtable) (Room: A05, Main Building) Chair: Heikki Talvitie Rentola, Kimmo Hentilä, Seppo	Women's changing roles and images in the aftermath of WWI (Room A06, Main Building) Chair: Ann-Catrin Östman Hoppu, Tuomas: Red women fighters of the Finnish Civil War in 1918 Jureniene, Virginia: Women's activity in Lithuania in 1917–1918 Lintunen, Tiina: Attitudes and assistance: everyday life after the Civil War Nevala, Seija-Leena: Women for religion, home and fatherland – Lotta Svärd in post-Civil War Finland

14.00 – 15.30
3	‘Shifting visions of the future’: perceptions of the international economy, trade policies and regulation towards cartels and restrictive business practices in a time of turmoil (Room: B4115) Chair: Juhana Aunesluoma Bertilorenzi, Marco: Moving forward or recasting back? The future of international trade in the League of Nation and International Chamber of Commerce debate. Shaev, Brian: Reform and revolution in the international economy: the schism of German Social Democracy and the economics of peace, 1917-1919 Fellman, Susanna: International debates in local context: views on restrictive business practices in Finland in the early 1920s.	Nationalism, nation-building and national self-determination III (Room: B4116) Chair: Tiina Kinnunen Annola, Johanna: Gender, nationalism and antimilitarism in Finnish parliamentary debate of 1917–1918 Révész, Tamás: Forward Red Soldiers! Mobilization propaganda of the Hungarian Soviet Republic Svyetlov, Oleksandr: Post-1918 emancipation: the role of politics, religion and ethnicity	Transnational networks (Room: B4117) Chair: Taina Syrjämaa Chamberlin, Ute: “The Fat is in the Mail”: remittances and the rebuilding of Transatlantic ties between German American communities and Germans after the Great War Krug, Samuel: The promotion of Arab nationalism by the German Foreign Office during the First World War: actors, networks and Implications Salminen, Timo: The international networks of Finnish and Swedish archaeologists in the 1910s	Former imperial centres in the postwar order. A comparison of the Baltics and the Upper Adriatic (Room: A05, Main Building) Chair: Kari Alenius Bresciani, Marco: Multinational ports in the Post-Habsburg Upper Adriatic between imperial legacies and post-war orders Balkelis, Tomas: Vilnius in 1918–1919: a contested city Richter, Klaus: Narratives of decline. Industrial centres, seaports and the fragmentation of the Eastern Baltics Laura Kolbe: commentator	The language policy construction of the newly independent European countries in the aftermath of World War I (Room: A06, Main Building) Chair: Taina Saarinen Saarinen, Taina & Ihalainen, Pasi: Multi-sited and historically layered language policy construction: parliamentary debate on the Finnish constitutional bilingualism in 1919 Bátyi, Szilvia & Csernicskó, István & Fedinec, Csilla : The construction of language and identity in the period of the foundation of the Czechoslovak state, 1918–1920 (PP presentation only) Selecka, Elva & Zabrodska, Anastassia: Language policy and planning in independent sovereign Estonia (1918–1940) Nuolijärvi, Pirkko: discussant
Friday, March 17
13.00 – 14.30
4	Individual experiences (Room: B4115) Chair: Tiina Kinnunen Gioielli, Emily: The many lives of Mrs. Hamburger: gender and the internationalization of the Hungarian Counter-Revolution Junila, Marianne: The price of independence? War and violence in the everyday lives of the schoolgirls in 1918 Siemens, Daniel: Framing defeat: the end of the First World War in autobiographies of the ‘Uncompromising Generation’ as entangled European narratives	Nation building and minorities (Room: B4116) Chair: Seija Jalagin Dajnowicz, Małgorzata: The nationalist movement on the border of the eastern Polish after First World War Palko, Olena: The Russian Revolution and the projects of a Soviet Ukraine Rybak, Jan: Creating a nation within nations: the Jewish National Councils 1917–19	New constitutions (Room: B4117) Chair: Vesa Vares Gašparič, Jure: Constructing the first Yugoslav state – on constitution and constitutional debates after the First World War Kaiser, Tobias: A Lack of Passion? The Weimar Constitution in the performance and memory of the New Republic – conflicts and debates on the Constitution Day Zečević, Nikola: Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes: principle of national self-determination vs. idea of unification, the case of Montenegro	Transnational revolution (Room: B3117) Chair: Pasi Ihalainen King, Francis: ‘Messianic’ conceptions of the Russian revolution Turunen, Risto: The language of revolution in Finland Helfert, Veronika: Crossing borders: gender and transnational aspects of the Austrian Soviet Movement, 1917–1924

15.00 – 16.30
5	Local experiences I (Room: B4115) Chair: Alexander Semyonov Kolbe, Laura: From imperial cities to national centres: constructing modern, democratic capital cities at the Baltic Sea in 1917–1919 Teuvo, Tuomas: Coexistence or antagonism? The soldiers of the Imperial Russian Army and the civilian population of the Grand Duchy of Finland in the years 1900–1917	Minorities and refugees I (Room: B4116) Chair: Taina Saarinen Alenius, Kari: The minority question in Finland and Estonia in comparative European perspective, 1917–1925 Błaszczak, Tomasz: Between autonomy and alliance. Belarusians and Lithuanian state after WWI - evaluations and interpretations Motta, Giuseppe: Nation-Building and minorities after the conflict. A comparative analysis of Italian and Romanian occupation in South-Tyrol and Transylvania.	Reform and revolution in Scandinavia, 1917-19: entangled histories and visions for the future I (Room: B4117) Chair: Pasi Ihalainen Leppänen, Katarina: Women’s press at war 1914–c.1920? Harvard, Jonas: Accelerating revolutionary opinion: media management strategies of the Swedish Left 1917 Kinnunen, Tiina: Two Swedish voices of the future of Post World War I Europe	Nationalism and revolutionary experiences (Room: B3117) Chair: Marjaana Niemi Rodriguez, Maria: Irish and Catalan national movements within the context of the WWI Suodenjoki, Sami: The Hunt for collaborators in Finland after the collapse of the imperial order, 1917 Zoffmann Rodriguez, Arturo: Behind me, the Cheka, the persecutions, but also the seeds of a new world’: Spanish anarchist travelers in Soviet Russia, 1917–24
17.00 – 18.30
6	Local experiences II (Room: B4115) Chair: Kari Teräs Egry, Gábor: The global national revolutions of Eastern Europe: local societies in transition from empire to nation-states Lahtinen, Anu: At the crossroads. Local experiences of conflicts in 1918 Finland Aatsinki, Ulla: Arctic approaching to the revolutionary activity in Finland	Minorities and refugees II (Room: B4116) Chair: Kari Alenius Flink, Toivo: Influence of World War I and revolution 1917 upon intellectual life of Ingrian Finns in Ingria and Russia during 1917–1919 (hyvä paikka tässä?) Jalagin, Seija: International responsibility, aid politics and lived realities: refugees from Russia and Finland, 1917–1927	Reform and revolution in Scandinavia, 1917-19: entangled histories and visions for the future II (Room: B4117) Chair: Tiina Kinnunen Ihalainen, Pasi: Transnational constructors of parliamentary democracy: ideological internationalists in Finnish and Swedish constitutional controversies, 1917–19 Friberg, Anna: History politics and (re)forming the future: visions of democracy in post-war Sweden Nevers, Jeppe: The state and the economy after the Great War: Danish experiences and expectations	The session of the Finnish National Archives (Room: B3117) Chair: Dmitri Frolov Frolov, Dmitri: The acquisition of records as part of a research collaboration and the reuse of the acquired records Rentola, Kimmo: Red Finns in Russian party archives Gusev, Aleksei: The relation of the records to the Leon Trotsky’s conception of the Permanent Revolution

Saturday, March 18

10.15 – 11.45

7	Postimperial and postrevolutionary visions: The Finno-Ugric nation states and their imagined geographies after 1918 (Room: B4115) Chair: Mari Vares Sommer, Łukasz: Political uses of linguistic kinship: Pan-Finno-Ugric concepts in Finland and Estonia after 1918 Okabe, Takehiro: Greater Finland as a post-empire phenomenon: making Finno-Ugric Studies national and international in Finland and Soviet Russia Gantner, Eszter: “Placemaking” and Identity: the emergence of the political Turanism as a transnational vision after 1918	Violence (Room: B4116) Chair: Pertti Haapala Jones, Mark: Founding Weimar. Violence and the German Revolution of 1918–19 Kivimäki, Ville: The Return of 1918? Finnish military defeat and the fear of escalating violence, 1944/1945 Tikka, Marko: Red and White terror and me: how the interpretations of political violence have changed and why does it matter?	Resources, redistribution and organizing new democracy in post war context: re-evaluating the emergence of Finland (Room: B4117) Chair: Matti Hannikainen Roitto, Matti & Karonen, Petri: Organizing new democracy Ojala, Jari & Eloranta, Jari: Credit risk and new independent states Voutilainen, Miikka: Sen’s law and the Finnish famine of 1917-1919	The First World War, imperial collapse and the challenges of national rebuilding in Eastern Europe (Room: B3117) Chair: Vesa Vares Kibita, Nataliya: Misreading the masses, or why Ukraine failed to create an independent state in 1917 Lauchlan, Iain: Enemies within: the paranoid style in revolutionary Russian politics Kaufman, David: “Russia is passing through a severe sickness which might afflict ... countries quite unlike her”: Bolsheviks and Bolshevism in the British “official mind”, 1917–1920 Ahonen, Pertti: “Population transfers” and the post-war order: the Lausanne Treaty of 1923 through contemporary eyes	War, peace and empires (Room: B3118) Chair: Sari Katajala-Peltomaa Fernandez Vega, Juan Luis: The resilience of empires: how 1917–1919 opened a wavering nationalistic parenthesis in European integrative trends Gusejnova, Dina: The negotiations of Brest-Litovsk and the problem of recognition, 1917–18
---	---	--	--	--	--

12.00 – 13.30

8	Activism, civilizing mission and national project. Sweden and the Finnish Civil War 1918 in a transnational perspective – a project presentation (Room: B4115) Chair: Pertti Haapala Hedén, Anne: The Swedish bourgeois sphere, the First World War and Finland Ekdahl, Lars: The Labour movement in a period of world war, revolutions and Civil War Roselius, Aapo: discussant Östberg, Kjell: discussant	New world order (Room: B4116) Chair: Juhana Aunesluoma Holmila, Antero & Ihalainen, Pasi: Nationalism and internationalism reconciled? British concepts for a new world order during and after the First and the Second World War Housden, Martyn: ‘Mankind is once more on the move.’ The need for a League of Nations at the end of the First World War. Khalifa, Safaa: World War I and nation building strategies in Europe: between Wilsonism and national aspirations	In the midst of international networks: personal, ideological and commercial networks of Finnish actors before and during the turbulent years of 1917–1919 and beyond (Room: B4117) Chair: Matti Roitto Kolumäki, Juha: The networks of Finnish Liberals to Great Britain before and after Independence Rantala, Tuomas: Third way wanderers – change of the Agrarian League after the First World War Sahi, Juha: In twilight of trade: Finnish trade networks to the Far East before and after the Great War	History politics and visions for the future after the First and during the Second World War (Room: B3117) Chair: Tiina Kinnunen Häkkinen, Ville: State-building from the ashes of the Habsburg Empire: history-political arguments in the Hungarian parliamentary debates, 1920–21 Sarkamo, Ville: Building a warrior nation: War Memorial Movement in Finland 1918–39
---	---	--	--	--	--